New Corn Cure A Real Marvel

Guaranteed and Absolutely Painless.

A corn cure that is painless and that will really do the work has finally been discovered. Heretofore, the poor sufferer from corns has been treated with "drawing" salves and plasters that swell the corns, and has had finally to gouge out this corn and inflict upon himself still greater pain. With Hall's Painless Corn Cure all pain ceases on the first application, and then finally the corn comes right off easily and painlessly. You don't have to dig it out and run the risk of drawing blood, making your corns still more sore or getting blood poisoning.

Hall's Painless Corn Cure is easier to use than any other. It takes a few seconds to apply it. It is guaranteed absolutely in every case. You must be satisfied, or back goes your money.

Lasts longer than several packages of any other corn treatment, and you are sure to get rid of corns and bunions. Sold at 25 cents a bottle at

Schmidt, who quickly recovered the ball and threw to Maranville who touched off Murphy. O'Driscoll out. Deal to Schmidt. Deal also threw out Collins.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Second Inning.

First Half—Gowdy was given a big hand when he came to bat. Plank fooled him on the first one with a slow curve. Gowdy walked. Plank being unable to control his wide curves. The Bostonians had hit speed yesterday and Plank was now feeding them on curves. Maranville sacrificed Baker to McInnis. Plank took Deal's smash and tossed to Baker, who threw to Collins, who touched Gowdy as he tried to slide back to second. Deal stole second. He was almost caught between the bases but Schang's throw was a little wide. McInnis was not in position to throw to second before Deal made the bag. Schang threw wild to catch Deal off second, but Barry saved him an error with a high jumping catch. James fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Half—The Boston outfielders played out against the fence for Baker but he only fouled out to Schmidt. James worked a fast one and a quick breaking spitter on the Athletics. McInnis fanned. Strunk also was a strikeout victim. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning.

First Half—Barry threw out Mann. It was a slow roller and Barry only got the ball after a hard run. His snap throw had Mann by a few feet at the bag. Evers singled solidly to center after having two strikes called on him. It was his second hit. Evers was almost picked off at first by Schang, but McInnis dropped the ball. Cather out on a fly to Baker. Evers tried to steal but Whitted fouled off the ball. Evers out stealing. Schang to Collins. It was a pitchout and Evers was caught ten feet off the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Barry fled out to Cather. Schang also fled out to Cather who took the ball over near the line. The crowd gave the veteran Eddie Plank a big hand when he came to the plate. Plank went out on three straight strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

First Half—Whitted out on a towering fly to Strunk. Schmidt smashed a single to right after the count on him was three and two. Gowdy out on a fly to Murphy. Maranville sent a single to right. Schmidt going to second. Barry made a wonderful stab of Deal's high bouncer and touched second, forcing Maranville. The blow was almost a sure hit on which Schmidt could have easily scored. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Second Half—James took Murphy's weak roller and threw him out. O'Driscoll could not fathom James' speed and struck out. Maranville threw out Collins at first. James' pitching was flit edged. He had not allowed a hit in the first four innings and had sent the Athletics batters back to the bench in 1, 2, 3 order. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

First Half—James beat up the air and struck out. Mann shot a hot single over second base. Evers fled out to Strunk. Mann ran down to second but got back to first before Strunk's throw reached the bag. Barry took Cather's grounder and tossed to Collins forcing Mann. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Baker fled out to Whitted. McInnis fanned for the second time. Strunk struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

First Half—Whitted popped out to Collins. Schmidt threw his shoulder in the way of a slow ball and started to walk to first but the umpire called him back. Schmidt fled out to Murphy, who had to go up near the fence to make the catch. Gowdy walked on four pitched balls. Maranville was hit with a pitched ball. Baker took Deal's roller and touched third forcing Gowdy. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Half—Maranville threw out Barry at first. Schang got a two-bagger to left. It was the Athletics' first hit. He was almost caught at second but a good slide saved him. Schang was out when the ball got away from Gowdy who quickly got the ball and threw the Athletics' catcher out at third. Maranville tossed out Plank.

No runs; one hit; no errors.

Seventh Inning.

First Half—James struck out for the third time. Mann struck out. Schang to McInnis. Baker threw out Evers. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

First Half—Barry threw out Maranville. Deal got a two base hit over Strunk's head. Deal stole third when Schang threw to Barry to catch him napping. James struck out for the fourth time. Deal scored on Mann's hit which was just out of Collins' reach. Mann went to second on a passed ball. Evers walked. Evers out at second Barry taking Cather's smash and tossing to Collins. One run, two hits, one error.

WILLIS IS TO VOTE FOR PROHIBITION

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE DISCLOSES HIMSELF FAVORING TEMPERANCE AMENDMENT

In Answer to Questions Put to Him While Speaking at Canton.

Canton, O., Oct. 10.—Congressman Frank B. Willis opened the day's campaign Friday with a direct answer to the questions regarding his attitude toward the wet and dry amendments. Speaking east of here, as favoring the prohibitory measure and opposing the home rule amendment.

During the day he traveled through a light rain, repeating his declarations in a series of eight speeches in Stark county and winding up with a meeting last night in the municipal auditorium here before an audience of 2,000.

"What have you got to say about the proposed wet and dry amendments?" Willis was asked by Rev. Mr. Anderson, pastor of the First Christian church of Sebring.

"I consider the so-called home rule amendment a backward step in temperance legislation," the Republican candidate for governor replied. "For that reason I think it to be a dangerous measure. The prohibitory amendment I consider a forward step in temperance legislation. I believe in going forward."

"How will you vote on the amendment?" came the next pertinent question.

"As an individual I will vote for the prohibitory amendment," was the answer.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, Oct. 10.—The public school fair was a feature of great interest to the citizens of Granville and also to the many children who contributed to its success. All of the grades, from the first one for the little tots to the high school, had a fine showing in all of the various departments. The exhibition of flowers, fruits, vegetables were especially fine and were special products of the young enthusiasts. The poultry exhibition by the boys was of a high class. Many clever specimens of articles of furniture made mostly by boys, attracted attention. The display of baking, fine arts, needle work, embroidery, crocheted work, knitting, etc., were also worthy of mention. Many prizes were awarded the happy participants. This is the second fair given by the school board and has proved to be successful far beyond expectation. Educational in its interest and results.

The Denison football team play today with Oberlin. Coach Livingston, with its team, left on the 9:20 car. The Bugle Sermon by Chester Birch last night at the Presbyterian church to the old soldiers, was one of patriotism and inspirational interest. The house was a capacity one. The large delegation of old soldiers was very gratifying in spite of the inclement weather. The song service by the choir and congregation, augmented by the cornet, was stirring in its patriotic character. One of the interesting features was the singing of the old war song, "Just Before the Battle, Mother," by Mrs. Jacob Rohrer, assisted by the choir. There will be no services tonight.

A meeting of importance, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., will be held this evening at the Granville Opera House. It was announced that there would be "Cyclone Speakers." Every one come out to hear them. They will give you some new ideas on the "dry" subject. Come, even though the weather is "wet." Mr. Birch will be there with his cornet to stir and enliven.

Colds whether in the head or any part of the body—come quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and no doubt you will wonder what became of your cold. Remember the quickest way to get rid of colic is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

besides the inspection of supplies, is regarded by some of the critics as a useless diversion of energy.

"The country is honeycombed with administrative machinery, public and private," says one writer, "and it is needless to improvise or expand war office arrangements to do work which civilians can do efficiently. The state does not attempt to improvise railway or shipping organization. It simply coordinates and uses the civilian machinery and capacities which exist."

Local administrative officers, the writer adds, could well take charge of raising the quota of troops for each district and arrange for their camps and provisioning. Local medical men might also physically examine applicants who are now sent from the country on long train journeys to military stations. Local doctors, it is assumed, ought to be capable of judging the fitness of teeth, eyesight and vital organs.

The advantage of co-operation between the war office and civilians and civil authorities would be the freeing of a large force of officers and men for purely military work. Recruits, according to some of the correspondents, are having an unnecessarily hard time of it in many instances, with the result that their patriotism is likely to be dampened before they get to the front.

NOT PARIS BUT CHANNEL PORTS GERMAN OBJECT

(Associated Press Telegram.)
London, Oct. 10.—The correspondent of the Express in Paris telegraphs the following:
"The immediate objective of the German army is now no longer Paris, but the channel ports. To sum up the German plan—the first blow on Paris having failed—the second blow must be aimed at England."

"The new lineup of the opposing forces means that northern France is destined to suffer a desolation similar to that already visited on Belgium. All of France's rich cities in the north have been marked for certain destruction and ruin."

"The French general staff is still confident of success but it is recognized that there can be no decisive victory while the masses engaged are so enormous. It is possible to hope for the defeat of the enemy's plan only if there can be a constant stream of reinforcements."

OFFENSIVE TO BE TAKEN BY THE RUSSIANS

(Associated Press Telegram.)
At the Front at Wirballen, Russian-Poland, Oct. 7.—Via The Hague and London, Oct. 10.—The Russians finally have decided to take the offensive. The Germans heretofore have often complained that the enemy, though twice stronger numerically, refused to leave their trenches, but for the last three nights the Russians have attacked along the entire front, extending 60 miles from about Witkowsk, north of Augustowo, to a point below Lyck, east Prussia. The attacks were repulsed, however, the Russians losing heavily, while the German losses were light.

The Russian artillery, which evidently has been reinforced to heavy artillery from Koenigsberg, at times shot well but often the shells fell short of the position of the German artillery.

Great damage has been done everywhere in the country in which the fight has been raging and several villages have been burned.

CAPTURE IS ROBBED OF IMPORTANCE

BY ESCAPE OF GARRISON WHO LEFT WHEN FORTS' DOOM WAS SEALED.

Destruction in Antwerp May Not be so Great as Excited Refugees Report.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
London, Oct. 10. Antwerp has fallen into the hands of the Germans with the exception of a few outlying forts which cannot affect the outstanding facts but its capture, important and stirring as it has been, was robbed of much of its intrinsic value. It is contended here, by the escape of the garrison. The defenders, it appears, held on long enough to enable them to take full stock of the situation and evacuated the citadel when it became evident that the doom of the town was sealed. Toward the close of the defense only a sufficient garrison to work the remaining available guns was left to hold Antwerp.

At midday of Friday the advance force of the Germans entered Antwerp, and the full surrender of the city evidently occurred at half past two o'clock in the afternoon. Beaten back from their last defenses, the Belgians blew up their heavy batteries and withdrew to rejoin their comrades who previously had evacuated their positions.

The forts around Continch, six miles southwest of Antwerp, are said to be still intact, and the duel between them and the German artillery is reported as still proceeding this (Saturday) morning. The outcome cannot be in doubt, it having been conclusively proved in the past two months that permanent forts in an exposed situation stand no chance against modern siege howitzers. The real extent of the destruction within the walls of Antwerp will be slow in reaching the outside world from unpartisan sources, for the reason that communication with the city is either cut, or entirely in the hands of military authorities.

From The Hague, it is asserted that the cathedral of Notre Dame has not been damaged. The museum and other public buildings also may have escaped. It is to be noted that the reports of destruction have almost invariably been obtained from excited refugees and telegraphed from points more or less distant from Antwerp.

The siege of Antwerp, which culminated in its fall Friday, October 9, began on September 29, so that the Germans took just fifteen days to reduce the formidable fortifications which surrounded the temporary capital of the Belgians. The Germans had however for a long time previous prepared the way for the attack on Antwerp by taking a number of towns in its vicinity.

The German forces which have taken Antwerp are said to consist of five army corps. They were under a command of General Hans von Beseler, a veteran of the war of 1870, who was taken from his retirement to do the work of reducing Antwerp.

General de Guise is in command of the Belgian defenders. King Albert aided them by his personal direction almost to the last, having quit Antwerp, according to reports, only yesterday morning, probably when the end was seen.

The strategic importance of Antwerp to the Germans arose largely from the fact of its menace to their lines of communication. With the Belgian army withdrawn to a position half way between Antwerp and Ostend the pressure on those lines will be removed at least temporarily. But at the same time there would appear to be little obstacle to the Belgians affecting a junction with the allies working to the northward in west Flanders. It is assumed in London that if Germany considers it convenient to her plan of campaign she will not hesitate to utilize the neutral waters of the Scheldt, but except as an airship and possibly a submarine base, it is contended that she derive no advantage from this waterway.

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Kingdon of Heaven Among Men!

This is an age of uplift. Our right of action must always be balanced with the ever recognized privilege of doing all the good we can.

Demanding our rights as the sole aim of life is a mighty selfish viewpoint—to say the least.

Brotherhood is a phrase, mainly, to demagogues but it is a principle to any genuine man.

The great advantage of the campaign to make the world appreciate more and more the reasonableness of the general brotherhood of all men, is that we can all do a reasonable part in the work.

This city is a representative one; our city enthusiasts have been working consistently for making the city bigger; seeing that it grows in population and importance.

But the more desirable campaign is to make this city better; give to our people a higher ideal of life, a broader view of the good to be done in the world, a bigger plan doing it, and a better method of Christianized efficiency.

Virtue is, of course, its own reward; but virtue is worth fighting for for the other man.

We help everyone by helping anyone!

"Hallowed Be Thy Name; Thy Kingdom Come; and Thy Will Be Done, On Earth as It Is Done in Heaven."

Right living and right thinking bring the individual to a higher and better state of citizenship, bring him to a living realization of the value of doing justice and loving mercy.

Calling for enlistments for the work of making conditions better, ought, naturally, to gain recruits in great numbers.

Any man helps who, though he realized that his help may not be much, offers his services and gives the best help he can.

Every church is a recruiting station in this campaign for lifting the world out of the sordid and barbed condition; bringing it to a higher state of citizenship, a better standard of morality, a lasting peace.

Selfishness should be eliminated; selfishness must be overcome; selfishness is really the great sin.

The church bells call to every individual to take his place in the world's work, for the ennobling of the Prince of Peace.

Ministers strive to stimulate in each individual an appreciation of the needs of the times—for the betterment of conditions.

Here and now is the opportunity; this is the day of our rising to our country's needs, and showing our willingness for the world's work.

It is ours to help—ours to do the best we can can—are we doing it?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional Cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

What Would Opposition Change?

The Republicans denounce the good work of President Wilson. What have they to offer in its place? The Republicans condemn the progressive acts of the Cox administration. What do they offer in their place? The Republicans declare for the abolition of the State Highway Department and for County Road Control. The State Highway Department gets the federal aid. This year Ohio gets $120,000 out of the federal government's appropriation of $500,000 and Licking county gets a large share of this federal money for improvement of the old National road. What have the stand-patters to offer in its place? The Republicans condemn the organization of commissions and offices to secure efficiency. What have they to offer in their place? The Republicans condemn the time given Ohio an honest duplicate in practically every township in Licking county the Warnes law has Every promise made by James M. Cox, the candidate, was redeemed by James M. Cox, the governor. Every pledge of the Democratic platform has been kept and the party stands upon the record of its performances. Does it pay to keep the faith? The people will answer on Nov. 3.

Objection is made by the Republican Governorship nominee to the creation by the General Assembly of a special commission to inquire into the high premium rates in Ohio for fire insurance. This investigation produced a horizontal reduction of 10 per cent, meaning millions in money to Ohio property owners, in the existing rates. What would this wiseacre have done?

As a true friend of education, as shown by his unvarying votes against the State Normal School system, Mr. Willis now arises to protest against the money spent for making a survey of the Ohio rural schools in order that they might be bettered. As Governor would he have prevented this necessary reform because of the $3,823 expended by the State?

An Opinion on Cancer.
Dr. W. J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., whose reputation as a surgeon carries weight, has told the Minnesota Medical Association that in his opinion cancer is curable if treated in its early stages, and that the disease is not hereditary, so far as medical knowledge goes. His advice is that any person having symptoms that might indicate cancer, any persistent abnormal swelling, whether painful or not, should consult a physician early and thus give opportunity for a treatment that might be efficacious if cancer were present. He held that effective treatment of cancer at present is county politics, and no man can display a better, unblemished personal reputation as the congenial servant of his electors than Jesse W. Hursey. Mr. Hursey has been closely associated with a number of local fraternal orders for many years, claiming membership at the present time in the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Rebekahs, Modern Woodmen, Eagles, Moose, Apes, and Elks and throughout fraternal circles in Licking county he is recognized as a man who by his forceful personality, and splendid ability is doing every thing in his power to maintain the reputation not only of himself but of the political party with which he affiliates.

distinctly surgical and that courageous treatment early would result in effective cure in many cases. Surgical science, he said, had been unjustly blamed for many failures and fatalities where the fault was that the operative treatment had been postponed until the disease was beyond cure. The alarming increase in the number of deaths from cancer makes any authoritative opinion of value. Dr. Mayo's advice, besides the weight of his experience as a surgeon, makes a common-sense appeal to the lay mind—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Great Domestic Market.

Charles G. Dawes calls attention in an interview in the Herald to the supreme importance of our great domestic market. Citing the fact that our foreign trade amounts to about 1 per cent of our domestic commerce, Mr. Dawes adds: "Should our foreign trade fall off 33 per cent for a few months it is but a reduction of one-third of 1 per cent of our total business. A fair discussion of the prospects for internal business certainly leads to confidence in a returning prosperous activity." Not only have we the greatest domestic market in the world, but its relative importance will increase rapidly. Events in Europe will work a vast destruction of values, a terrific disorganization of industry. The domestic markets of those countries will be for a time reduced to bare necessities. Americans will continue to be the biggest purchasers in the world.—Chicago Herald.

PEACE.

If things were right, we'd never fight to add to our dominions; the dove of peace would never cease to wave its snowy pinions. We would abhor the name of war, detest the sight of battle; with scythe and flail we'd earn the kale where now the sabres rattle. The ages scout, and man's a brute, and culture is a fable, and to us shame we're can, who butcher, render, and when you chance to scratch it, you find a wretch who longs to fetch you three licks with a hatchet. The lessons dire of nations we're carelessly are spurning; two thousand years of blood and tears, and yet we're nothing learning! If we were wiser we'd all arise and can the fierce battalions, so busy now, and to the plow we'd hitch their paving stallions. It could be done, peace could be won, if all would work to gain it, with voice and pen, again expound it and explain it. Too long the harps of poet sharps have boosted blood and battle, exalted knights who yearn for fights, and all that sort of cattle. Now let us sing of peace, by jing, of home and happy labor, and let us show that spade or hoe is nobler than the sabre. WALT MAZON.

THE KNOCKER.
(By Mary Elizabeth Fuller)
The knocker is knocking his old knee-kiss song.
He is rousing and knocking at every one's door.
He knocks and he knocks as he goes along.
Infamy and scandal his every day song.

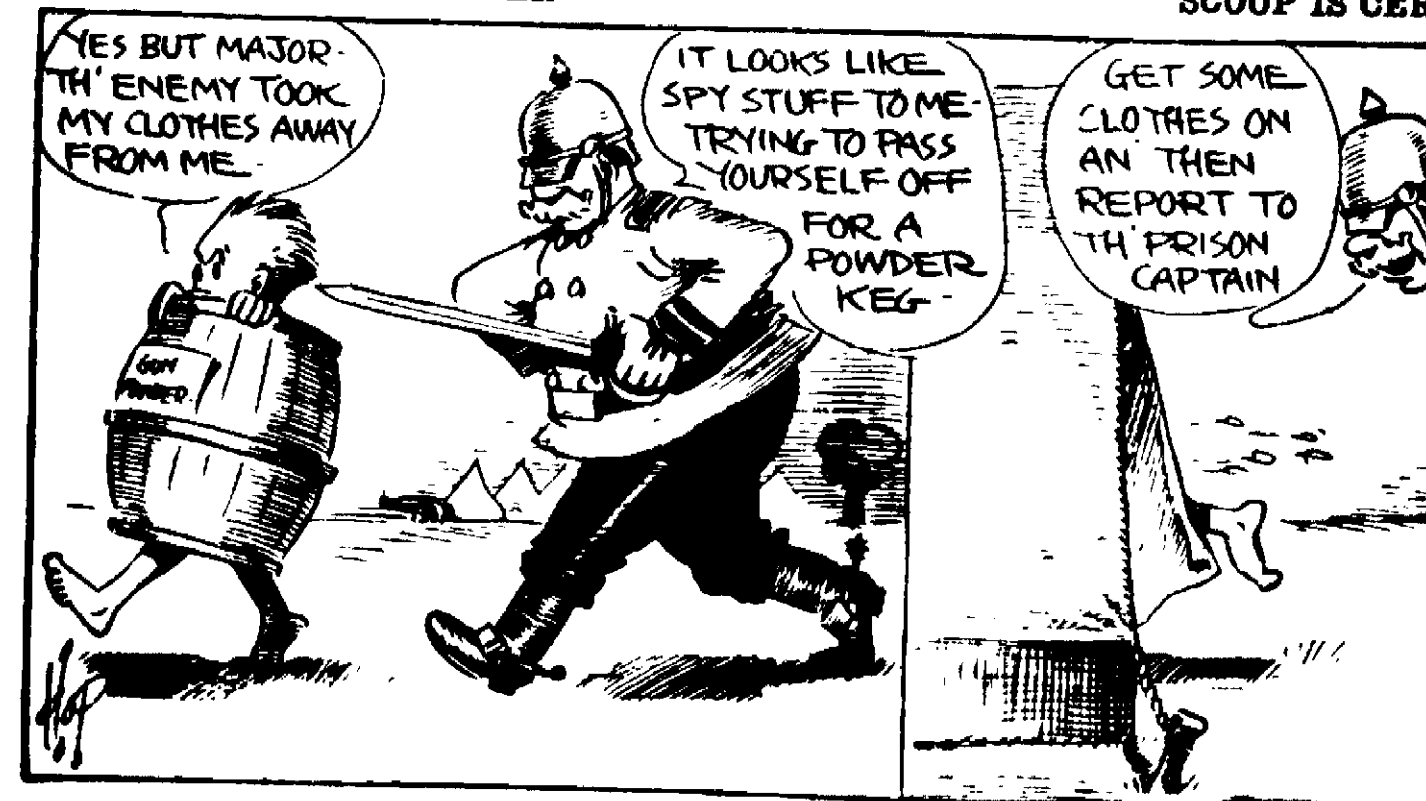

But what has he gained at the end of his course?
He's gone the wiser, and has made himself wiser.
There's nothing in knocking, or in the pull of the bunch.
It's all in the many friends you've got in the bunch.

Then refrain from knocking, as you're going your way.
Let kindness and truth be your grand old way.
Just the will to be right, as you'll find it, and you'll find it.
Don't knock and don't waste all don't waste time to fight.

The man who expends his dissipation by climbing he thereby improves his business will find it's a poor plan to try to get ahead by getting a head.

I Wish to Say That Peruna Is the Best Household Remedy In the Whole World.

Mrs. Elin Malmgren, 133 Frederick St., West Manchester, N. I always keep it in my house in case of sickness. I recommend your medicine to all my friends and every sufferer, as an excellent medicine for colds and for building up strength. We have many Swedish friends in Boston who use Peruna and think a great deal of it. If all the Swedish people in this country could know what an excellent family medicine your Peruna is I am sure they would keep it in the home."

SUFFRAGE

WAS EXPONDED BY TWO WELL POSTED WOMEN IN SPEECHES FRIDAY.

In Which Reasoned, as They Saw Them, Were Given Why Women Should Vote.

On Friday afternoon in spite of the threatening weather, the capacity of Taylor hall in the Y. M. C. A. building, was taxed to accommodate the large audience of women, who were anxious to hear Miss Rose Livingstone deliver her address dealing with white slavery.

Mrs. E. S. Randolph of the Licking County Suffrage association, spoke a few words referring to the suffrage movement and introduced Mrs. Ethel R. Vorce, of Cleveland. Mrs. Vorce sketched, briefly, the progress made by woman, and told how the step needed for her emancipation was that of the ballot. She then told how intrepidly Miss Rose Livingstone, known as "The Angel of Chinatown," had worked among the fallen women and how many she had rescued.

Miss Livingstone, a small bit of femininity, but fairly bristling with energy and enthusiasm, took the platform, and fairly poured down torrents of denunciation on the women who were willing to sit back complacently and permit the terrible things to go as they have. Miss Livingstone said that her own actual knowledge of facts had made it seem imperative to her that women should have the power to vote, and that in them lay the power to correct the wrongs of the country. She said that personally she had rescued 475 girls under the age of 17 from a life of commercialized vice. She told of the man-made laws, how imperfect they were and how hard and to what terrible extremes one must go to secure even an arrest. She declared the generally tolerated double standard of morality for men.

"The anti," said Miss Livingstone, "say the woman's place is in the home." Then why in the name of heaven don't they stay in the home and not leave it to oppose us."

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock on the south side of the court house, Mrs. Vorce delivered her talk. The inclement weather forced the crowd to the top of the steps for protection, but Mrs. Vorce gave an admirable address. She spoke of the evolution of woman—how man, after much study and deliberation, had a few centuries ago granted that woman had a soul. At first she was not supposed to have an education. Then after years of ignorance she was permitted to have an education. Mrs. Vorce told of the uproar at the next step in the progress of woman, when she went into the world to work. She told how one shop keeper, who was the first to employ a woman clerk, had been boycotted. Now she is in all the trades as well as professions, and how well she has filled these places. The formation of women's clubs was the next step toward betterment, until now the next logical step in her evolution is the power of the ballot.

Woman has governed indirectly so long, why not now give her the power direct.

Mrs. Vorce developed three reasons why woman should vote. First, because she is a citizen of the United States. As one of the people, she should have a say in the government of the people. Second, from the standpoint of the workers, they should have the ballot for protection, and third, woman has received an equal education and in many instances a higher education than man, and she should have the right to divert it to the channel where it would do the most good, and this alone can be done through the power of a voice in the government.

Feats of a Strong Man.

Well known in the old buffalo days of Saskatchewan was Joe Beaupre, famed a thousand miles as the biggest eater in the north. Joe was not six feet tall, but he was a broad, deep, thick sort of man, with a hand like a ham and a stomach like nothing else in the world. He would eat an entire boxful of apples at one sitting and think nothing of it. Once, having encountered a gentleman who thought he was some eater, Joe consumed fifty-three pounds of buffalo meat in one day and topped off with a raw turnip, a six pound piece of pork, some lard and two loaves of bread. The best his competitor could do was thirty-seven pounds of meat. Beaupre was so strong he never would fight any man for fear he should kill him. One day, while sledding on a narrow trail with an obstinate horse, he became angered, struck the horse on the head with his fist and killed it. He loosened the harness and threw the dead animal on one side of the trail. He never really knew how strong he was. Beaupre died of rheumatism while still a young man.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Seventh Inning Stretch.

It is a simple ceremonial, but impressive, like all manifestations of the soul of a multitude. I need only close my eyes to call up the picture vividly. It is a day of brilliant sunshine, and a great crowd of men is seated in the open air, a crowd made up of all conditions, ages, races, temperaments and states of mind. The crowd has sat there an hour or more, while the afternoon sun has slanted deeper into the west and the shadows have crept across greenward and hard baked clay to the eastern horizon. Then, almost with a single motion—the time may be somewhere between 4 o'clock and 5 o'clock—this multitude of diverse minds and tempers rises to its feet and stands silent, while one might count twenty perhaps. Nothing is said. No high priest intones prayer for this vast congregation. Nevertheless, the impulse of 10,000 hearts is obviously focused into a single desire. When you have counted twenty the crowd sinks back to the benches. A half minute at most and the rite is over.—Simeon Strunsky in Atlantic.

Virtue of Peanuts.

The oil of the peanut has a quieting effect on the pneumogastric nerve, the largest nerve supplying the stomach. Many nervous persons who like peanuts and do not know why, like them for this reason. They quiet the nerves of the stomach. These persons should eat a few fresh roasted peanuts after each hearty meal, as many nervous conditions are due to an irritation of the pneumogastric nerve, and the peanut oil acts as a sedative to this nerve. Of course the nuts must be crisp and well chewed and not too many taken. To get the best sedative effect a handful of the hot peanuts should be eaten just before retiring. This presupposes that the powers of elimination are in good report. The peanut, a member of the legume family, is nutritious and would dog the system if not eaten correctly, as it is almost equal to meat. Philadelphia Ledger.

Putting it on the Map.
Captain Cook shows in his "Voyages" how some of the mouth biting place names of maps are evolved. "Off New Zealand there is an island called by the natives 'Matuana.' One of my officers, having asked a native the name of this island, the latter replied, 'Kamaitani,' putting 'the' before the name, and the custom. The officer, hearing the sound imperfectly, repeated his question, whereupon the native repeated the reply, emphasizing it with the word 'Matuana,' which means 'indeed.' So the logbook Matuana was transformed into 'Kumetwarro-wia.'—London Globe.

Attorney General Will Sit at Table With Prosecutor Jones When the Gas Case is Called

There are no new developments in the gas situation and the officials and representatives of the company are reticent regarding the notice to local consumers that no more gas would be furnished after Nov. 30, unless arrangements could be made by the company for the purchase of a supply from producers sufficient to furnish the city of Newark at a price to the company that would enable it to market the gas at 18 cents per thousand feet.

Prosecutor J. Howard Jones in speaking of the gas controversy today said:

"When the quo warranto proceeding which I have instituted is called in court I will have either Attorney General Timothy Hogan or his first assistant, Joseph McGee, at the trial table.

"I will be able to show that prior to 1902, the year the Union merger was formed, that there were scores of little gas companies producing and distributing gas in Ohio. Since that time most all of them have become a part of the Union Gas Co., including the Logan Natural Gas company and the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel company.

"After the merger, Union Gas Company bought the entire stock of the Logan company and sold gas to the Newark company, making a contract that they should charge not less than twenty-five cents per thousand feet, which was in violation of a contract then existing between the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel Company and the city of Newark."

Prosecutor Jones informed the Advocate that he had a conference with one of the officials of the Union Gas company, who is at the head of the corporation, and that gentleman told him that if they would connect with their nearest large main line, a 16-inch pipe, in the vicinity of Union Station, this county, they would be enabled to give the city of Newark an adequate supply of gas. The Pittsburgh gas man was asked the probable cost of such line to connect the main service line with the Newark lines and estimated it at $30,000. He further said that if the material could be secured promptly the connecting line could be built and completed in six weeks.

"When the case comes to a hearing," said Prosecutor Jones, "I will show that the basic law of Ohio is that a gas company must do business in Ohio under a franchise."

"The Newark Natural Gas and Fuel company was operating under a franchise granted by the city council for 25 years and to terminate in 1923. The law also gave city councils the right to fix rates and the Newark city council did so. The company at that time said the rate was reasonable. Since that time the Newark company has attempted to raise the gross rate from 20 to 25 cents per 1,000 feet and the net rate from 18 to 21 1-2 cents. This question is involved in the case tried in two courts and both have found that the rate is reasonable.

"It is my duty," said Prosecutor Jones, "to see that the laws of Ohio are enforced the same in the case of a corporation as with a private individual. I will endeavor to do so."

FACTS IN GAS CASE STATED BY SOLICITOR

(By Ralph Norpell, City Solicitor)
Consumers should not become unduly alarmed over the notices published by the Gas company. I believe the company is bound under its franchise to continue to furnish gas to this city. The following is a brief statement of the facts in the situation. In 1898 the city granted and the company accepted a franchise to supply gas for twenty-five years; as the rate fixed at the commencement of the franchise expired in 1905, and no new rate has since been agreed upon, the price charged must under the law be a reasonable one; that it must be such as to afford the company a reasonable profit on its investment. The city council in March, 1911, fixed the rate at eighteen cents, net, for five years; the company refused to accept this rate and in the litigation that resulted, the common pleas court and the court of appeals have both found after full and complete trials that the eighteen cent rate afforded the company a fair profit upon its investment, at the time the ordinance was passed and up to the time of the trials in the two courts respectively.

Conditions in the natural gas business are subject to more rapid changes than in the average business and the law is such that the company can at any time by making a proper showing before the Public Utilities Commission or the courts, that the rate does not allow it a fair profit, have the rate readjusted so as to allow them a reasonable profit.

And so the company may, now, or at any time in the future, apply for as above indicated and obtain any relief in the matter of price that the facts show it is entitled to, and there is no valid excuse for the tactics it has adopted in publishing those notices.

The whole trouble is that the company is not satisfied to have a rate fixed that merely affords it a reasonable profit, but wants as much as it can get by taking on and piping new towns situated remote from any gas field. It's disposition is to disregard entirely its obligations under the franchise and the law governing public service corporations.

The officials of this city have been and are willing and anxious to have this gas business adjusted upon any basis that is reasonable and fair to both company and consumers, and it ought to be settled, but we do demand and shall insist upon reasonable treatment at the hands of the gas company.

RALPH NORPELL, Solicitor.

HECKLER SENT BY REPUBLICANS TO QUIZ WILLIS

Columbus, Oct. 10. The Republican press headquarters have been working overtime in setting out a story telling how Frank B. Willis jumped rough shot on a "heckler" who asked him during one of his speeches, the other night where he stood on the temperance question. According to these reports, this "heckler" was sent to the meeting by some of the Progressive candidates or organization officials.

But Willis couldn't be scared by such a question. No, indeed, he couldn't. He was waiting for just such an opportunity as that which was given him to explain where he stood on this all important question. "So you are the man sent here by the Progressives to ask me that question," said Willis pointing to the questioner. "Well, I am mighty glad to see you, and answer this question, and settle this issue once and for all."

And then Candidate Willis went back over the 20 years of his public life and told where he stood on everything except the liquor question. "I stand on my record," was the substance of his 20 minutes' wrangle.

Now the facts of that Columbus meeting are that this "heckler" was sent there by the Republicans themselves. Willis knew he was coming and was prepared for him. The Republicans thought that the best place for Willis to be asked this question, which Garfield and Garfield have been asking him every day, was among his friends. The meeting was held at the Republican club, and the 200 who attended were all graduates of the standard school.

Now, when anyone asks Willis where he stands he replies: "I answered that question in Columbus the other night."

But the bold part of the entire scheme was the charge that this "heckler" had been sent to the Republican club by the Progressives. He was simply an employee of the Republican committee.

The special attraction was the making of a bean soup in true Indian fashion.

Donations of apples, vegetables, and butter were poured into the association this week, for which the board of directors and the girls are sincerely grateful. It is good to be so abundantly remembered by our friends.

Next week is registration week, at the association in all the departments. Classes begin the following week. Sign up now for a class in evening stam, cooking, sewing, millinery, home and basketry.

The opening session of the state convention of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Neil Avenue M. E. church at 10 o'clock, Saturday morning, and about sixty-five delegates from over the state are in attendance.

The business of the meeting opened with the executive session which concluded the opening work. Miss Ruth Kirk of Wilmington, O., led in the devotional, which opened the afternoon meeting, and at 1:30 the convention was called to order by President Rae Vaughn of Columbus, and the roll call of the ex-officio members and the local branches was had.

In the response to the roll call each branch responded with a short talk telling of the work being done to promote state prohibition.

The report of the executive committee and the appointment of committees on resolutions, press, and other work concluded some time.

The corresponding secretary's report was made by Miss Grace Lehtala, and the annual report was made by Mr. Sumner Cox. The reports concluded with those of the auditor.

Mr. Vaughn, state president, delivered a most able address and state secretary of new League, spoke on "The Young Campaigners' Work." Mrs. Mary S. Powers, state secretary of the Y. P. B. work, gave a talk on "The Young Bricks."

Adjournment followed, until the evening session, when a reception was given for visitors and delegates.

The visitors from the city are being cared for in the homes and dining at the Neil Avenue M. E. church. On Monday evening the chapter of the W. C. T. U. will give the visitors a banquet.

FAST CARS ARE READY FOR BIG RACING EVENT

Newark is to have one of the big automobile races soon. A number of professional drivers will be here and some very fast events are expected. A few of the racing cars are already in town and are attracting much attention.

Douglas Gray, one of the drivers had a look at the track Wednesday and declared it a fast one. Gray will drive a Buick special. The 100-mile-an-hour Knox will be here, driven by "Al" Parcell. "Mercedes" Laucher of Plainville is going to drive a car he designed and built. This car is very fast. The No. 1 Nyberg, that finished second in the 200-mile race at Columbus a year ago will be driven by "Doc" Pratt. This car was also in the Indianapolis 500-mile race a year ago. A Ford and a Marmon are among the entries. One of the features of the meet is an Australian Pursuit Race. Six cars will start at equal distances around the track and all start at fire of starters gun, and race until one car overtakes the others. As each car is overtaken it is out of the race. This race sometimes lasts 50 miles.

Overtures are being made to the big Buick that raced here on July 1 for this entry.

Another feature of the races is that the small cars will have as much chance as the large ones, as some of the events will be handicap affairs.

Lodges

Y. M. C. A. Lodge.

Newark Lodge No. 3275, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, met in regular form on Sept. 25th, with J. L. Dumar, state manager of Columbus, and a good number of members and visitors present.

The work of organizing a degree team has started, and has good prospects of being equal to the best in the state. It was decided at this meeting to hold the regular meetings on the first and third Friday evenings of each month, starting with Oct. 23. At this meeting there was a good attendance and all showed great interest in the work. J. King Gregory, district deputy, is bustling and is getting results. At the next meeting which will be on Oct. 16, Archer Schwab has promised to take us on a trip to Boston, you can't afford to miss this. All Yeomen and their friends are invited.

K. of P. No. 13.

Newark Lodge No. 13 met in regular session on Thursday evening. One stranger came through the mystic words of the rank of Page. Two Pages being given the rank of Esquire.

All sick brothers are improving. Next Thursday the Page rank will be conferred and on Thursday, Oct. 23, the Knight rank will be given a class of Esquires. All members are invited to be present as there will be something doing, or so the refreshment committee reports.

Tuesday evening's session proved to be all that the advance notices claimed for it. The crowd was there to the number of about 200, and apparently enjoyed the various events. Grand Chancellor Ellis made a characteristic address that touched the spot. "Hence the standard" is the slogan he has adopted for his term of office, and it was applied in many ways Tuesday night. Several other talks were greatly appreciated, as was also "Kaiser" Wollinsky's battalion of Uniform Rank in a number of difficult maneuvers. There is no truth in the report that Captain "Gene" is thinking of sending his company to the "Vaterland." The finance committee of the new Pythian building inaugurated its campaign for funds at this meeting and raised a neat sum for this worthy project. All will lend a hand in helping to erect this fine building and the committee does not want to overlook any one. It is the purpose to see every one individually, so be prepared to do your best. It will take a great deal of money, but eventually will be a credit and an honor to the organization.

The grand finale of the evening was the oyster supper in the banquet room. The tables presented an unusually attractive appearance, before the on-stage appearance. Chairman Vanatta of the entertainment committee had spared no pains to make this part of the program a success. Needless to say it was a success.

Incidentally it might be added that six applications for membership were received at this meeting and one other balloted upon and elected.
